Power 7 Announcements! New Power 7 Models Systems Director and VMControl

IBM POWER7 servers: redefining the meaning of server performance - moving from a simple performance-based view to a systems view by providing the depth and breadth of capabilities required to solve complex challenges.

Virtualization without limits: Built in virtualization with more flexibility, no limits to virtual machine size, no virtualization performance penalty.

Management with automation: Server and virtualization management is integrated with network and storage management for complete resource control.

Workload optimization: Balanced system designs with intelligence that automatically optimizes workload performance and capacity at a system or individual virtual machine level.

Steve Fier has been with IBM 32 years starting as a systems engineer and currently as a sales specialist. Areas of expertise include DB2, Application Development, and Windows Integration. Currently he is a Competitive Sales Specialist focusing on HP and Sun accounts.

About The Delaware Valley Computer User Group

Founded in 1981, the Delaware Valley Computer Users Group (DVCUG) is a community of business systems professionals. The primary focus of the organization is education related to IBM midrange computer systems and associated technologies. A general meeting and educational event is held multiple times per year. The DVCUG is run by volunteers who serve on the Board of Directors and various planning and event organizing committees. All members are encouraged and invited to participate in shaping the future direction of the group and contributing to its success. DVCUG purchase/refund policy: Please be sure you can attend before prepaying. DVCUG cannot provide refunds since your payment goes toward the meal we order for you. If you pre-register and do NOT attend the meeting, you will be billed for the Full Meeting Registration Fee if not pre-paid.
